

e-Medine

company profile

e-Medine is a non-profit private association dedicated to the promotion of active citizenship. The Italian NPO aims at facilitating democratic engagement and civic participation of social actors, such as young citizens and public administrations within Mediterranean region, through the raise of awareness, raising campaigns, round tables and the dissemination of best practices.

e-Medine aims at improving the general participation to the social life of the community and raise awareness about the importance of being «active citizens». In order to achieve its goals, the organization promotes the adoption of EduGames, ICT and other digital tools and methodologies that have already shown their effectiveness in the field of active citizenship. Among the general goals pursued by e-Medine, it is worth emphasising as well the development and implementation of innovative formal and non-formal online training programmes and the organization of round tables, meetings and events to encourage public discussion and strengthen social participation.
